

Neighborhood Market Series Introduction

Neighborhood markets not only promote other modes of transportation, such as walking and biking, but also provide a place for social interaction, meeting spots, and short travel distances to carry out daily errands. By locating these markets on key nodes within neighborhoods, the Corner Market can be a place for neighbors to interact and shop in close proximity to their homes. This series includes photos of a few Corner Markets. While viewing these photos you may choose to consider how the following keywords apply to each photo. Then, consider how these keywords may apply to similar present and future markets within your community.

Neighborhood Market Definition:

A business establishment within walking distance of many neighborhood residents where goods and services are bought, sold, or used.

Keywords:

close proximity to residential areas, daily errands and needs, local goods and services, meeting place, neighborhood growth, pedestrian or bicycle access, short travel distances, social interaction