Form-Based Code:

Advantages + Implementation

10:30 am - 12:00 pm ■ Farmington City Hall, Community Room
160 South Main Street, Farmington, Utah 84025

Form-based codes are ordinances that emphasize form to promote walkable places, can be tailored to fit your community's vision, and allow development to evolve with changing market conditions. Form-based code is one innovative strategy to implement a community's vision in a way that meets the needs of residents, city officials and administrators, and developers.

Using South Salt Lake's Streetcar District as an example, presenters will discuss how to implement this ordinance type. Attendees will hear about the process the City underwent to adopt a successful form-based code.

Additionally the developer's perspective on the advantages of working within the form-based jurisdiction will be highlighted. Finally, a Wasatch Front Regional Council (WFRC) representative will demonstrate the components and the calibration process of the Wasatch Choice Form-Based Code Template. Join us an informative session that will explore how to encourage quality development through form-based code.

Who Should Attend?

Local elected officials, planners, city staff, and anyone looking to learn about form-based code, the mechanics of the Wasatch Choice Form-Based Code Template, and a successful example from the City of South Salt Lake. The event is open to everyone and free to attend. 1.5 APA CM credits are available through this event.
