MATT upcoming mobile active transportation tours

MATTs

Mobile Active Transportation Tours are bicycle tours of an area's active transportation infrastructure. Tours usually last half a day and are geared to include even the most casual cyclist. They are also a great place to network with other transportation professionals.

Bicycle Availability

Participants are encouraged to bring their own bicycles and helmets. A limited number of bikes will be available free of charge at select events. Please check event website for details as availability will vary and bikes need to be reserved ahead of time.
